Any installation will be required to pay a $50.00 inspection fee for water and a $50.00 inspection fee for sewer and pass an inspection by the Town's Utility Inspector before being backfilled, and prior to turning on of the service. If upon inspection any deficiencies are noted, the Town's Utility Inspector shall give written notice of the nonconformity and shall require that corrections be made within a reasonable, specified period of time.
- D. It shall be unlawful for any customer to have a cross connection on his property, or to supply water to another residence by any other means.
- E. It shall be required that all residential and commercial customers have installed the approved backflow prevention device on their service connection. The backflow prevention device shall be subject to the approval and annual inspection and testing by the Town, a plumber or licensed backflow technician to install such device, and shall be no further than three (3) feet from the meter. The cost of installation and annual inspection of required backflow prevention devices shall be the responsibility of the Customer. The consumer's system shall include those parts of the facilities beyond the termination of the water purveyor's distribution system which are utilized in conveying potable water to points of use. Service of water to any premise shall be discontinued by the water purveyor if a backflow prevention assembly required by this Policy, is not installed, tested and maintained, or if it is found that a backflow prevention assembly has been removed, bypassed, or if an unprotected cross-connection exists on the premises. Service will not be restored until such conditions or defects are corrected.

The consumer's system should be open for inspection at all reasonable times to authorized representative of the Policy to determine whether unprotected cross-connections or other structural or sanitary hazards, *including violations of these regulations, exist. When such a condition becomes known, the water purveyor shall deny or immediately discontinue service to the premises by providing for a physical break in the service line until the consumer has corrected the condition(s) in conformance with the State of Florida statutes relating to plumbing and water supplies and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

An approved backflow prevention assembly shall also be installed on each service line to a consumer's water system at or near the property line and before the first branch line leading off the service line wherever the following conditions exist:

- a) Having auxiliary water supply i.e. river, pools, ponds and sprinkler system.
- b) In the case of premises on which any industrial fluids or any other objectionable substance is handled in such a fashion as to create an actual or potential hazard to the public water system, the public system shall be protected against backflow from the premises by installing an approved backflow prevention assembly in the service line commensurate with the degree of hazard.
- c) Internal cross-connections that cannot be permanently corrected.

The type of protective assembly required shall depend upon the degree of hazard which exists as follows:

- a) In the case of any premise where there is an auxiliary water supply as stated, the public water system shall be protected by an approved air gap or an approved reduced pressure principle backflow prevention assembly.
- b) In the case of any premise where there is water or substance that would be objectionable but not hazardous to health, if introduced into the public water system, the public water system shall be protected by an approved double check valve backflow prevention assembly.
- c) In the case of any premise where there is any material dangerous to health which is handled in such a fashion as to create an actual or potential hazard to the public water system, the public water system shall be protected by an approved air gap or an approved reduced pressure principle backflow prevention assembly.

Any backflow prevention assembly required herein shall be a make, model and size approved by the Department of Environmental Protection. The term "Approved Backflow Prevention Assembly" shall mean an assembly that has been manufactured in full conformance with the standards established by the American Water Works Association.

It shall be the duty of the consumer at any premise where backflow prevention assemblies are installed to have a field test performed by a certified backflow prevention assembly tester upon installation and at least once per year. These tests shall be at the expense of the water user and shall be performed by a certified tester approved by the Department of Environmental Protection. The consumer shall notify the water purveyor in advance when the tests are to be undertaken so that an official representative may witness the field tests if so desired. These assemblies shall be repaired, overhauled or replaced at the expense of the consumer whenever said assemblies are found to be defective.

All presently installed backflow prevention assemblies which do not meet the requirements of this section but were approved devices for the purposes described herein at the time of installation and which have been properly maintained, shall except for the testing and maintenance requirements be excluded from the requirements of these rules so long as the Department of Environmental Protection is assured that they will satisfactorily protect the water purveyor's system. Whenever the existing device is moved from the present location or requires more than minimum maintenance or when the Department of Environmental Protection finds that the maintenance constitutes a hazard to health, the unit shall be replaced by an approved backflow prevention assembly meeting the requirement of this section.

The backflow device shall be plumbed with galvanized pipe risers (12" minimum from bottom of device to flood level). Horizontal legs are to be a minimum of 12" in length, galvanized and encased in concrete (3" above and below pipe). NOTE: It would be in the customer's best interest to install a barrier around the backflow assembly to prevent damage and water loss.
